

→ Layered Architecture.

* Integrator layer details

This layer is responsible for getting user input and passing it to the Authentication layer.

* Services layer details

Provides the user, admin, driver or guest with these convenient services ^{based on account type} like: editing info, booking trip, cancel trip, edit book info., contacting user support, adding additional busses, removing busses, activating and deactivating accounts, confirm pickup, etc..

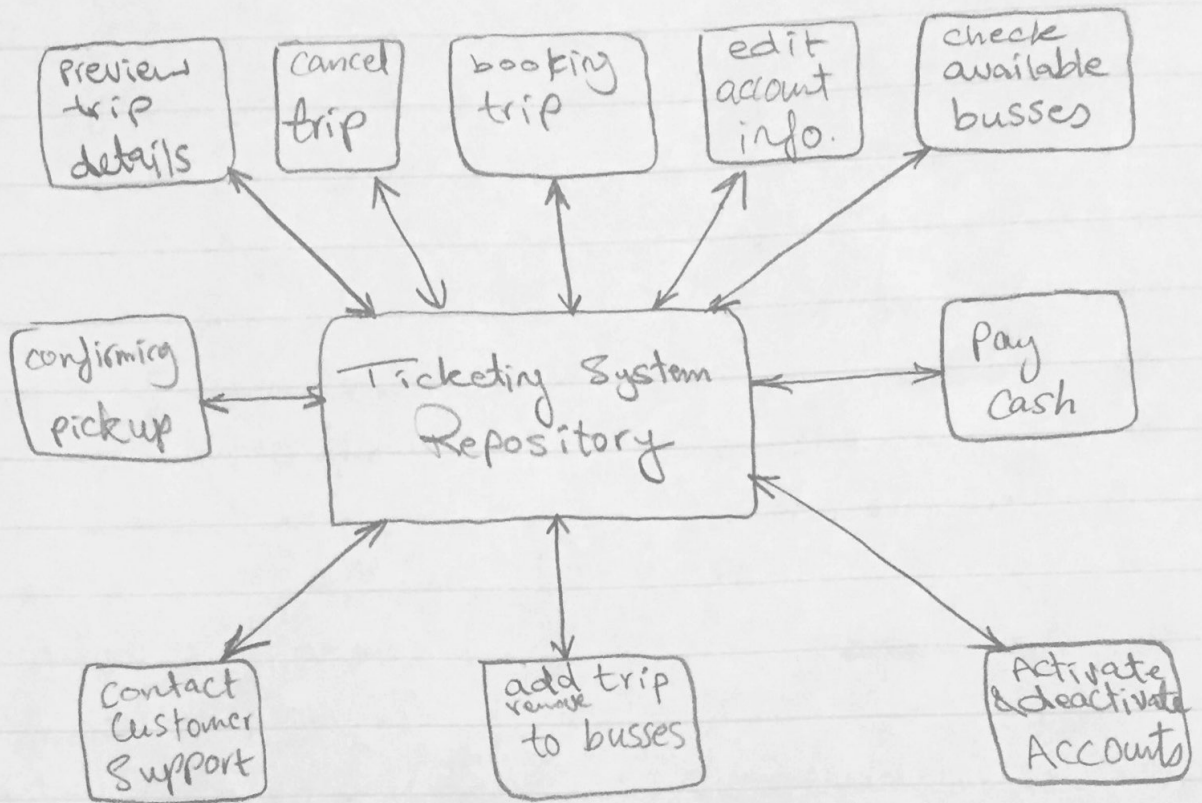

* Authentication layer details

Identifies the following user, if he is an admin, user, ^{driver} or guest; based on his username (login details) to pass it to the following layer with the correct services.

* Database handler details

This layer holds the registered queries or code that requires data from the database about a specific information stored there.

→ Repository Architecture

→ Important objects.

User (customer), guest, admin & driver.